L.O.S. CONFERENCE CLOSING SESSION

Five Speakers, Including First Presidency, Deliver Addresses To the Assembled Saints.

Huge Congregation Exhorted to Pay Honest Tithing, and Keep Word of Wisdom.

President Smith Pays Tribute to Utah's Representatives in the Halls Of Congress.

The Seventy-ninth semi-annual conscrence of the Church of Jesus Christ came to a close at 4:15 o'clock yes terday afternoon. It was one of the most interesting gatherings of the kind in the history of the Church, the sessions from beginning to end being spirited from the view point of the addresses, and all the meetings being largely attended. There were five speakers during the last session, namely Presidents John R. Winder, Anthon H. Lund, Elder Seymour B. Young Patriarch John Smith, and President Joseph F. Smith, in the order named.

When the "News" report of the conference closed yesterday afternoon, President John R. Winder, had just started to speak. He touched upon the main topic of the conference, a stricter main topic of the conference, a stricter observance of the Word of Wisdom, and the regulation of the liquor traffic. "Another important subject, not much referred to during the conference, said President Winder, "was tithing. It is a principle in which he believed with all his heart. Any man who paid an honest tithing would be blessed, but none should perform that duty, for the purpose of receiving blessings in the way of dollars and cents. As to how the tithing is expended, the people need have no worry nor concern. He knew personally that every cent was honestly expended and proper records thereof kept, so that a proper records thereof kept, so that a strict accounting could at any time be

The speaker did not know how many The speaker and not know now many more conferences he would be permitted to enjoy with the saints, but he wished to bear earnest and solemn testimony that he knew whereof he spoke in the matter of the way in which the finances of the Church are conducted.

PRESIDENT ANTHON H. LUND.

PRESIDENT ANTHON H. LUND.

President Anthon H. Lund, the next speaker, spoke feelingly of President Winder, of his wonderful mentality at the advanced age of $7, and testified that in all things he was a man of faith and fai hfulness.

President Lund referred to a revelation given by the Lord 14 months before the organization of the Church that a marvelous work was about to be instituted among the children of men. Now after a lapse of 78 years we can realize to a great extent the scope of the promise then made. As a prophet, Joseph Smith is sustained by the fulfillment of his prophesies, and as \(\epsilon\) teacher he is sustained by the purity of his teachings. By those who knew him he was beloved, and those now living who were personally acceptable with him never tire of falling. now living who were personally acquainted with him, never tire of telling of his kindness of heart and greatness of soul,

The adversary has desired and do desire the overcoming of this work. But God was at the helm, and thwarted all attempts to overcome this work. When Book of Mormon was published the Church had no paniphrets or other works setting forth the gospel. But the Book of Mormon was a strong advocate of its own divinity. It converted such men as Brigham, John, Joseph and Lorenzo Young. For a time it seemed that argumentative books were better means of spreading the gospel. better means of spreading the gospel than was the Book of Mormon itself. But the conclusion has been reached that the best means of teaching the truths contained in the Book of Morthat the best means of teaching the truths contained in the Book of Mormon is to increase the output of the book itself. There had recently been published in the northern states 100,000 copies of the Book of Mormon, and only the other day an order had been received from one firm for 500 copies of the edition to be delivered at once. The speaker hoped that the Book of Mormon, like the Bible, should be translated into all languages and be read in all parts of the world.

The organization of the Church was not made piece meal, nor added upon from time to time. When the Church was organized, although there were not sufficient numbers to fill the requirements, but it was already known by the Prophet Joseph just what the mind and will of the Lord was in regard to organization. For a time the Church was directed by elders; subsequently high priests were ordained, and in 1833 the first presidency was organized and in 1835 the quorum of the apostles was completed, followed shortly afterwards supplemented by the seventies. In all a cieses, the plan had already been laid out by revelation, and office upon office was filled when the need of the Church made it necessary.

How Is Your Blood?

If you lack strength, are nervous, have no appetite, don't sleep well, get tired easily, your blood is in bad condition. You cannot be strong without pure, rich blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes good, rich blood and keeps it good.

Dyspepsia - "For six months my system was out of order with dyspepsia and impure blood. Spent lots of money in vain, but Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me." Jos. S. ZAUBA, Genoa, Neb. Had No Appetite - "I was troubled with dyspepsia and had no appetite. I had a faint feeling after eating. My constitution was all run down, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has fully relieved me. FLORENCE STOWE, Sinderville, Wisconsin.

Weakness—"I bless the day I heard of Hond's Sarsaparilla, as it cured me of extreme "meakness after grip, built my husband up after pneumonia, and cured eczema and blood-poisoning in our children." Mrs. M. A. Delworth, Box 4, Embreeville, Pa. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold everywhere.

eph Smith dissolved the First Presidency, and the rightful and legitimate leadership fell upon the twelve apostles. This was at is had been in the days of the Savior. At His death no mention was made of any of his relatives succeeding to leadership of the Church, but the succession fell upon the apostles, with Peter at their head. To Peter fell the charge of feeding the flock of Christ. All controversies were submitted to Peter, James and John, submitted to Peter, James and John, and there was formed the first presidency. When Joseph died the responsibility of leading the Church fell upon the twelve apostles. There was no talk of heridity, in the matter of a leadership for the Church.

There was no disorganization of the Church, as has been claimed by some. Because the prophet of the Lord was slain by wicked men, was that a justification for the Lord rejecting the Church and disorganizing it? Some men were too cowardly to stay by the men were too cowardly to stay by the Church in its trying ordeals, but this did not warrant an assupmtion that the faithful and true were rejected by the Lord. There was no disorganization, hence no need of a reorganization. ELDER SEYMOUR B. YOUNG.

The vote taken for the suppression The vote taken for the suppression of the drinking habit among the Latter-day Saints was heartily endorsed by Elder Seymour B. Young. He said he wished that the condition sought for might be found in every Christian community in the land, irrespective of creed. The observance of the Sabbath was another matter that should receive the attention of well disposed persons the attention of well disposed persons.

The tearing up on Sunday of the atreets of this city for paving purposes had been seen frequently of late, and saloons had been found with open doors on the Sabbath day.

In the observance of the Word of Smith will be found on page one.)

Wisdom the saints are furnished great. wisdom the same are turnished greater strength of body, of mind and of soul. When one strives to keep himself within the pale of God's commandself within the pale of God's commandments, he cannot but feel greater strength in everything that pertains to his being. There are many things that need reforming, and there is plenty of work for the elders to do, whether at home or abroad. It is not necessary to rail against wrongdoing, but evil should be pointed out and an invitation extended to the wrongdoer for right living.

A solo, "Sweet Spirit, Hear My Prayer," was rendered by Miss Claribel

Patriarch John Smith was the next speaker. He endorsed all that had been said during the conference, and testified that it had come from the right source. Joseph Smith was a prophet of the liv-ing God, and his successors have been in the right path; their work has been in the right path; their work has been just and true. Some people commitmore alns of omission than of commission, and the speaker felt that perhaps he was in that position, though his endeavors had been to do his duty. The saints were admonished by the speaker to listen to the still small voice of the Spirit of God.

on the dignity of labor. He held that much of this dignity has been lost in America, that the laboring man was too often made the tool of the wily politician. In regard to the latter, he said: "The politicians come before you and wave the star-spangled banner, and sing about it to you, and you, like a hungry robin, open your bazoo to the greatest possible extent, so wide that your eyes close, and swallow whatever he is a mind to drop into it, never asking whether it is worms or carpet tacks."

never asking whether it is worms of carpet tacks."

Brown had his cudgel out for the government because the administration came to the aid of the banks during the last panic, and said: "While all the aid of a powerful government was extended to the trust controllers, nothing was done for labor, and no one had any idea of what could be done for it, but the Socialist party."
